

Achievements encourage students to get active on Paper™

Even when learners have tools for academic success right in front of them, the initial hurdles of jumping in, getting familiar with their features, and using them consistently can be tricky. Luckily, Paper™ is committed to making these processes seamless. Paper Achievements offer a series of trophies and challenges that encourage students to explore Paper's full suite of offerings consistently and over time—boosting academic success in turn.

About Paper's challenges

Paper's one-week challenges encourage students to learn more about its full suite of offerings. To finish a challenge, students complete a set of core learning activities to earn points—such as launching a Live Help session with a tutor, providing feedback after a chat, or submitting written work to the Review Center. As students work through these challenges, they can view their progress visually on their Paper dashboards.

About Paper's trophies

As students work to explore the full suite of features in the Paper platform, they're awarded trophies, badges, and points that recognize their efforts. Students can view all of these achievements on their Paper profiles.

How trophies and challenges spur adoption and academic success

Students

- ✔ Students not only gain a sense of accomplishment as they complete various challenges and collect visual awards, but also develop healthy academic habits.
- ✔ Trophies and challenges encourage students to spend more time using Paper and discover valuable features that can boost their overall academic performance.

District leaders

- ✔ District leaders should see an uptick in adoption as more students have positive experiences with Paper and continue using the platform.
