

Grant every student access to high-quality support with Paper™

Paper's trusted Educational Support System ensures every student has access to the resources they need to succeed across subject areas, practice and master skills, and prepare for careers or college.

We've also made some key changes to Paper™ to make learning easier for everyone. The platform's key academic support tools—Live Help and Review Center—have evolved to offer a more personalized experience, focusing on students' diverse learning styles and preferences.

Our commitment to offering multiple types of learner support ensures Paper can adapt to students' individual learning needs and save them valuable time. Educators can also implement these resources as part of their instructional routines and get insights into how students are learning and where they need an extra layer of support.

Ensuring a personalized learning experience

Session Types

To create a more personalized and flexible learning experience for students, we've introduced new Live Help session types. Learners can now select between options like daily answer, brainstorm and research, writing polish and more before launching a session. This helps tutors meet individual students' needs and supports better academic outcomes.

Recorded Whiteboard

We've expanded our virtual whiteboard to students and tutors alike so they can record and share their activities directly. This enhancement allows for dynamic demonstration of thought processes, leading to increased efficiency and more personalized tutoring sessions tailored to learners' individual needs and knowledge.

Focusing on accessibility

Voice Notes, Voice Typing, and Text Reader

With the addition of voice tools in Live Help, we've made our tutoring sessions accessible for even more students. With Voice Notes, Voice Typing, and Text Reader, Live Help can support younger students, English learners, and those who are more comfortable when they can think through concepts verbally.

Offering faster feedback

Review Center

We've spent the summer refining the Review Center so that students can get feedback on their writing faster—all without sacrificing the quality of that feedback.

Log in via app.paper.co to get started.